

Marie Claire

4 celeb ways... TO RADIANT SKIN

By Clare Zerry

Liv Tyler
Fresh

Liv's secret...
While in New Zealand filming The Lord of the Rings, Liv discovered Hema facials. 'The freshness of the products is outstanding and they feel so pure on my skin,' says Liv.
Try...
A Hema facial. Using hand-blended oils containing healing herbal extracts, honey and avocado, it leaves skin looking clean, plump and revitalised. For a DIY beauty treat, try slathering on Hema Hydrating Unquent Masque, £40.

For a Hema facial, or to order products, call Triyoga on 020-7483 3344. For more on Hema, visit www.hemaproducts.com.

Lucy Liu
Healthy

Lucy's secret...
To keep her skin as firm as her teenage Hollywood rivals', Lucy, 35, takes collagen capsules daily as a natural alternative to going under the knife.
Try...
Proto-Col Beauty 100% Pure Collagen capsules, £29.95. These contain vital proteins and amino acids that help rebuild skin cells by stimulating the body's collagen production (this decreases by 1.5 per cent each year after you hit 25). The result? Plumper-looking skin.

Drew Barrymore
Luminous

Drew's secret...
A reflective pale-yellow powder perfect for glowing at red carpet occasions – a dusting transforms a tired complexion into one of a screen starlet.
Try...
T. LeClerc Loose Powder Travel Compact, £28, in Banane, which is made from rice starch, so it's suitable for even the most sensitive skin. Thanks to its formulation, which should last all day long, the powder reflects light and masks any imperfections, including those dreaded dark circles.

T. LeClerc is available from Fenwick (020-7629 9161).

Kate Winslet
Natural

Kate's secret...
As a classic English rose, Kate's a huge fan of skincare products that are natural and free from chemical nasties.
Try...
Ren skincare, which is made from essential oils and plant extracts – replacing synthetic ingredients, a common culprit in skin reactions. Ren's new moisturiser for sensitive skin hydrates and protects your face against pollution.
